

By Bible, Hammer & Compass

Pacific Adventures of James and William Puckey,
1796-1827 carpenters–missionaries–mariners

"Here was a story waiting to be told, but one which past generations would not, could not tell Since I began to read ... I have been absorbed in this story I love this book."

Professor Peter Lineham, Massey University

2019 marks 200 years since the Revd Samuel Marsden established the second Church Missionary Society (CMS) mission at Kerikeri. The written history of this special place has been enriched by the arrival of "By Bible Hammer & Compass", which focuses on the previously unpublished, but extraordinary lives of the Cornish-born Puckey brothers, and their adventures while serving as missionaries, carpenters and mariners 1796-1827.

"Congratulations to all involved in this publication, for the great work and wonderful supporting illustrations and the 'Who's Who' I wholeheartedly commend this book."

Revd Dr Allan Davidson, St John's Theological College
